

Canine Coverage™ FAQ

How does Canine Coverage™ work?

Canine Coverage™ works like insurance, but for your dog's behavior instead of their health. When you join for just $49 a month, you're protected if behavior problems like aggression, anxiety, or reactivity ever appear.

If something does come up, you simply submit a short form and quick video explaining what's going on. From there, our certified trainers step in and personally work with you and your dog through our proven behavior rehab program, completely covered under your plan.

Why a monthly membership instead of a one-time fee?

Because your dog's behavior doesn't work that way. You can't just "fix" a living, breathing animal and walk away. Our coverage ensures you're never alone when life changes: new environments, new babies, new dogs, etc.

Can I join even if my dog has no behavior problems right now?

Absolutely, and that's actually the best time to join. Getting covered early protects you from costly behavior problems down the road and gives you daily peace of mind knowing your dog's future is secure. Getting started as early as possible saves you stress, time, and money before issues ever begin.

What if my dog's issue is really serious or "aggressive"?

That's exactly why we built Canine Coverage™. We specialize in aggression, reactivity, and severe behavior cases, the same kinds of dogs most trainers turn away. If your dog is struggling, you're in the right place
